LET US DO SOMETHING.

The Plain Issue as Between the People and Their Representatives.

CURRENT RESULTS.

There was nothing on the street to-day to invite peculation. The official record of sales shows changes, but they were not of sufficient imce to attract attention.

ween the street and Mr. Richardson, as to hether the bonded debt of the United States has een increased contrary to law, is beginning to xcite attention. We have given the complete even stronger than their mathematical instincts. For these we have only toleration. Either Mr. Richardson has increased the bonded debt of this country or he has published a fraudulent public Treasury Department from any responsi bility, on the ground that the supervision is greater an his intelligence is able to cover. But we want n intelligence that can comprehend something eyond Massachusetts. Senator Morton had a ediment of truth in what he said the other day. But this Rocky Mountain statesmanship needs cisely as our forward bullionists who rould force us into liquidation require a check. he last public debt statement shows an increase in the public debt. It is not explained by "called een issued November 1. Besides, the item of called bonds," taken from the account of "debt vs a very small amount outstanding. Now, let Richardson's honesty. It is the one quality has kept him there. But what we know of the men below ears we have witnessed a wave of corruption p over us that has made a victim of nearly mbezziements and distrust have multiplied until e did not know where we stood. This is ended. ave gone into liquidation in these matters as re have in respect to others. In the meantime want to call public attention to the fact that last cali for bonds, comprising $5,000,000, was ie November 1 and expired February 1, and that consequently there are no bonds outstanding now upon which interest is due after the same mint made here, that the statement of the public lebt as given to the public shows an increase in ed debt contrary to law.

THE LOCAL SITUATION

IN THE STOCK MARKET

principal interest centred in the reported of three C.'s and I. by the Atlantic and Great Western. It was something like the old scriptural mage of the blind leading the blind, and it did not take. Outside of that there was universal dulness. he record of the market will be best learned from the tables given below.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

Cotton Firmer-Flour Steady-Wheat and Lard Higher-Groceries Firm-Freights Steady-Petroleum Easier-Naval Stores Unchanged-Whiskey Easier.

THURSDAY, March 5-6 P. M. The merchandise movement continued moder ate, but there was in some cases decidedly more speculative feeling. At the Produce Exchange speculation was confined to pork and lard, but these were decidedly more active and at higher prices. Flour was steady, with a moderate inquiry. Wheat was wanted, and, being scarce, brought better prices, though the transactions were moderate. Corn was firmer, but not especially active. Oats were firm. Whiskey was easy. Freights were strong. Cotton met with a better demand, both for spot and future, and the market was firmer. The general market for groceries ruled quiet, but there was no essential change in values. Petroleum was easier and in moderate demand. Naval stores were quiet and about steady in value.

400 hhds of fully tair refining at 75c., 220 hhds. for Mar-tinique at 75c., 150 boxes of molasses sugar at 75c. and 250 boxes of centrifucal at 28 265c. for 150 bis. Befored was not majerially changed in value and only a moder-ate injury reported. Mesars. Wait, Creighton & Morri-son, in their circular of this date, sum up as followed. Note: Secretained by setting Mesars. Fogs. Mesaro.

THE BRIDGE COMPANY.

Meeting of the Directors-Prospect of Continuing the Work. At a meeting of the directors of the New York

Bridge Company a discussion was held as to the best means of raising funds to proceed with the work. The hope was expressed on behalf of the stockholders that Brooklyn would take the work of their hands and finish the bridge at its own expense. They desired it should be made free to the public, and return to the private stockholders the money advanced immediately after the completion of the bridge. The Mayor and Comptroller declared it impossible for Brooklyn to undertake the work alone, and said that no proposition having in view the throwing of the entire expense and responsibility on that city could be entertained for a moment. New York should, it was argued, take her proportionate share of the expense. The Mayor and Mr. Schroeder agreed that it would be equitable if New York would join Brooklyn in taking up the work and releasing the stockholders. It was finally decided that the bridge work should go on, provided New York will assist by the payment of the proportion due from that city. It was agreed that a conference be held with the New York authorities at an early day, and if they will consent to the compromise the work will be pushed forward promptly. In the event of New York retusing to agree with Brooklyn in this matter the enterprise will be brought to a standstill. the money advanced immediately after the com-

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Committee No. 4 on Head Money-The Foundation of Such a Law as the in Reciprocation with the Chamber-A Memorial to the Legislature fiela-tive to the Funding of the Canal Debt. The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was neld yesterday afternoon at the coms of the Chamber, No. 63 William street, Mr.

Villiam Grinnell presiding.

On nomination of the Executive Committee Mr. Villiam M. Evarts was unanimously elected an honorary member of the Chamber. Walter S. Fairfield, President of the Butter and Cheese Exchange, nominated by John F. Henry, and Mancella Folsom, Vice President of the same ssociation, nominated by Roland S. Doty, were elected members.

The committee reported the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That the officers of the Chamber be and are hereby appointed a committee, with power, to make arangements for the anniversary banquet on the evening of the 7th of April.

hereby appointed a committee, with power, to make argangements for the anniversary banquet on the evening of the 7th of April.

The following report on the head money question was submitted by Committee No. 4;—

To yis Chamber of Committee No. 4;—

To yis Chamber of Committee Your committee to whom has been referred the question of head money, so called, have carefully examined the papers and documents bearing on this subject which have been laid before them, and now respectfully beg to report;—

In the year 185? the Legisaure of the State of New York passed laws to tax sing and steamship owners and agents a certain sum on each passenger arriving in this port. Such tax was syled "head money," and the amounts so collected were paid into the State Treasury, it appears that some of the parties so taxed paid under protest, either in whole or in part, while others, either in whole or in part, while others, either in whole or in part, while others, are time of payment. In January, 1849, the Supreme Court of the United States decided the act above referred to to be unconstitutional. This decision was made more particularly in the case of the State of Massachusetts, which had existing laws like those of New York, the only difference being that the tax imposed on passengers was larger than that in this state. The cases appeared were argued by Daniel Webser, Ruffus Choate, John Van Buren and others, and the supreme Court, as stated, deliberately declared he laws of the States of Massachusetts and New York to be in would have been returnable to the master of owners. Nor can there be any doubt that the tax was imposed upon the ship, the rate being graduated by the number of passengers instead of the tonnage of the vessel, its seems conclusive, both from the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States and from the nature of the case, that the moneys do not belong to the passengers; they must, therefore, belong to the masters or owners who paid them. The moneys, there is the passengers, but to the parties who paid them, it is just and expedient that they shall be promptly returned. They was nature to the passengers, but to the laws declared unconstrained and the shall be promptly returned. They who have the action and thus all the moneys so paid may be assed out of the treasury at a vastery so have the state. A just regard for the too his need to the too the country has sectioned to es not belong to her, while the interests of a large and valuable class of her citizens, to whom this money rightfully belongs, require its immediate return.

At the conclusion of their report the committee At the conclusion of their report the committee made the subjoined recommendation :-

mane the subjoined recommendation:—
Upon these considerations, and with a desire to deal just with the claimants, and at the same time to save the state as much as cossible from embarrasament, your committee or to issue and deliver evidence of debt to the organizative claimants for the several amounts, payable in wenty years, with interest at six per cent, after the several claims shall have been established before a commission consisting of two commissioners to be appointed by the dovernor with the concurrence of the Comptroller.

by the devernor with the concurrence of the Compiral let.

Our committee now submit the above presentation of the case, and in view of the decision of the Supreme case, and in view of the decision of the Supreme case, and in view of the decision of the Supreme case, and the action of the State of Massachusetts and the action of the State of Massachusetts and the case and the action of the State of New York Induced thereby, they cannot, after careful deliberation, come to any other conclusion than that the claims of both classes who paid this tax—namely, those who paid it under protest and those who did not, are precisely similar, nor do they see why any distinction should be made between them, if it was right to return it in one instance it is right to do so in the other, and no arguments of outlawry, or lapse of time, or the absence of technical formatities, should avail to prevent an equitable settlement. States, no less than individuals, cannot afford to be unused, and claims the validity of which has been virtually acknowledged are and most continue to be unit discharged a debt segainst the State which justice and equity require should not be perpetuated.

JAMES W. ELWELL, Chairman.

In connection with the above the following reso-

Iution was adopted:—
Resolved, That the report of Committee No. 4 on head money be adopted and sent to the Lesislature, and that the Chamber of Commerce respectfully request that a law be passed in accordance with its suggestions.

Committee No. 5, to whom had been reaccompanying documents in regard to stevedoring reported that it was not within the province of the Chamber to entertain the subject.

The following was read and received with applause:

Washington, March 5-1:07 P. M.

Gronge Wilson, Secretary New York Chamber of Commerce:

Our hearing before the Committee of Ways and Means delayed till to-morrow. Mr. Dodge was heard to-day in reply to the attack of Jayne. His statements triumphant yindication of bis house, and a perfect showing of the iniquities of the present law, both in its provisions and fix unserupulous application. These could be no stronger blow to the informer system than his clear recital of the wrong done to his firm. We have the strongest hope of carrying our plans.

SCHULTZ, ROBBINS and STEVENS, Special Committee.

German Empire, proffering to the Chamber of Com-merce, in exchange for all publications of the lat-ter, the publications emanating from the Central Bureau of Statistics recently established at Berlin, was accepted and a resolution proposed by Mr. Ruggles, acknowledging the honor conferred upon the Chamber by this mark of respectiul regard on the part of the German Empire, unanimously passed.

the part of the German Empire, unanimously passed.

Mr. Ruggles stated that the resolutions adopted at the special meeting of the Chamber in reference to the funding of the canal debt, and which had been sent to the Albany Legislature, had had the good effect of staying any further progress of the objectionable amendment. A joint committee of both houses had been appointed to consider the whole subject, before whom citizens opposing the amendment would be heard.

Mr. Ruggles has now ready a memorial, composed chiefly of extracts from the minutes of previous meetings of the Chamber and bearing immediately on this subject, which the Chamter adopted and which will be forwarded at once to Albany.

The Chamber then adjourned
